

Condition Class Ratings for Eastern Wilderness (Modification of Frissell)

Note – The primary difference between Condition Class is the amount of vegetation loss. The images shown here for Class 1 and Class 2 sites are potentially misleading because they do not portray a significant difference in ground vegetation between Class I and Class 2. It is likely that the site did not have ground vegetation before disturbance occurred. Many sites will have ground vegetation as an indicator.

